

Wenatchee River Salmon Festival

12790 Fish Hatchery Rd, Leavenworth, WA 98826

Public Affairs Office: Wenatchee River Ranger District
Susan C Peterson, Marketing & Promotions
(509) 548-2558; Fax (509) 548-5817

NEWS RELEASE

Release: September, 2009

Subject: 2009 Wenatchee River Salmon Festival

Contact: Media & Promotions, Susan C. Peterson, (509) 548-2558

It's almost here; the 19th annual Wenatchee River Salmon Festival is this September 19th-20th, at the Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery, Leavenworth, WA.

Salmon Fest is devoted to fun-filled "edu-tainment", a form of education and entertainment that is fun, yet educational. Our mission is to connect youth and families to nature by helping them discover and appreciate the complexities of the natural world and the significance of salmon to people of the northwest, in a fun filled way. The Festival brings people, natural resources, education, entertainment and science together in a non-commercial, non-political package, and it's all FREE!

Students from schools throughout north central Washington visit Salmon Fest during the two special school days (Thursday and Friday). On Saturday and Sunday the event attracts thousands of visitors and families from the northwest. In response, the event is nationally recognized for its educational excellence.

Join us and take part in the many inter-generational hands-on activities, interactive exhibits, wildlife "edu-tainment", music, art, and experience meaningful cultural exchanges with Native Americans in an authentic inter-tribal encampment. Visitors especially love the new emphasis on outdoor recreation exhibits and activities we feature.

Soak up the beauty of north central Washington under a canopy of beautiful fall colors and surrounded by the Cascade Mountains. Best of all, we're just two miles away from spectacular Bavarian Leavenworth, the Ultimate Christmas town (featured recently on "Good Morning America").

See you soon!

P.S. swim to our website at: www.salmonfest.org

(End)